Furthermore, if a team's pitchers record any combination of four (4) hit batters and/or walks, a coach pitcher (from the hitting team) will finish that half inning. The player must remain in the gams as the fielder for the pitcher's position for the remainder of the inning. If in the umpire's judgment the coach pitcher interfered with the play (either intentionally or unintentionally) the ball will be considered dead and an out may be called if the interference in the judgment of the umpire prevented a play on a runner/batter where the runner/batter would have been out if the play could have been made. The player pitcher must have one foot in the dirt area of the mound without interfering or being interfered with by the coach pitcher when the coach pitcher pitches the ball. They cannot be any closer to the batter than the coach pitcher. Once the pitch is thrown; the player pitcher is free to become a fielder and move wherever necessary.
