If the teams do not play each other, the tiebreaker will be based on run differential.
- d. In the event there is a sole team in first and a tie in the standings for second place, one team will be awarded for first place and second place will be awarded based on the tiebreaker used above.

XV. UNSPORTSMANLIKE CONDUCT

- a. The umpire shall be in complete control of the game at all times. He/she may eject any player or member of any team guilty of unsportsmanlike conduct or use of profane language. After being ejected, the player or team member must leave the confines of Stoney Run Athletic Complex including the parking lot.

2. Overall Points Against for Entire Season
3. Overall Points Accumulated for Entire Season
4. Coin Toss

For example, if two teams are tied in the standings and split their head-to-head matchups or did not play each other, the next step in the tiebreaker process will be used

- ii. In the event of a tie between three or more teams in the standings, the tiebreaker process will be as follows until the first tie is broken. Once the first tie is broken, the process starts over again.

1. Head-to-Head
2. Overall Points Against for Entire Season
3. Overall Points Accumulated for Entire Season
4. Coin Toss

For example, if three teams are tied in the standings and one team has a better head-to-head record as compared to the other tied teams, that team will advance and be the higher seed of the three teams. The head-to-head tiebreaker scenario will only be used if the three teams played an equal amount of games between the tied teams in the regular season.

- c. Players must participate in minimum of three (3) regular season games to be eligible to play in the tournament. (Participation means the player batted or took the field in at least three games. Player may not only be listed on the line up.)
