

Sample Youth Practice Schedule (Ages 11 to 15)

Here is a sample structure of a practice schedule for a youth team. Of course, this is just a sample and things would be different every day, but this is a basic structure of how a practice may look.

1. Dynamic Warm Up & Athletic Work - 10 minutes

This is probably the #1 thing missing from most youth practices. It helps prevent injury, improves performance, and improve athletic ability. What good is a basketball player who is injured or is not athletic enough to utilize the basketball skills developed? The better the player moves, the better the player performs. Why not spend time on it?

There are a lot of players who have tremendous SKILLS, but lacked the ATHLETIC ability to make it to the next level.

Because it is the game of basketball, I do try to include a basketball in the warm up as much as possible.

2. Teaching Skills and Using Fun Drills to Improve Skills - 20 minutes

The #1 reason kids quit sports is because it's not fun anymore. Youth coaches primary focus should be to teach skills and make it an enjoyable experience! This isn't high school, college, or even PRO basketball, so don't treat your practices like it.

Try the skill-fun drill technique. This means that you teach a skill, then follow up that skill with a fun game or drill to work on the skill. It helps break up the monotony of practice.

3. Drills & Games to Practice Offense and Defense - 20 minutes

4. End of Game Drill - 10 minutes

Use the end of game drill to end practice in a fun fashion. It also gets players accustomed to end of game situations.
