Corey L- There was an incident with a child; he does not know the other players' names. He sat for the rest of the second half. At the end of the game, he decided to go to the bathroom next to the other players, where they could see his privates. The parent came over and confronted me about why her child was not playing in the 2nd half. I explained it. She decided to go to the other parents and complain. Monday after the game, we had a team meeting with the parents. This player's grandparent brought the player in question and did not stay for the parent talk. The kid then decided to fart multiple times, even after being asked to stop, because it was a distraction. The parent was then complaining about the parent meeting, even though she did not attend.

Ryan asked What did you say to the parent when she confronted you? I told the parent; I asked him 3 times if he could go in for said position and said player, but he could not find the player, so I asked him to sit. The parent then told me that no one stands out. I told her that's her own opinion.

Ryan said if a player is a distraction like that and not listening, please send them to sit down with the parents.

Billy- is it the 5-7-9 rule or is it the 5-6-7 rule? We confirmed it is 5-6-7.
