

MAKE THE GAME OF SOCCER FUN!

Vince Ganzberg's EASY to follow soccer games to help make Soccer enjoyable for all!

ZB
BARKEY COMICS
www.barkeycreative.com

Compiled by Vince Ganzberg

Illustrated by Brian Barkey

INDIANA

YOUTH SOCCER

Backyard Games

www.barkeycreative.com

©Barkey 2010

Table of Contents

Dribbling Games

Yard Dribble	3
Figure 8	4
Drag Racing	5
1v1 to one ball	6
“Jumpers”	7
“Three and Out”

Passing Games

Soccer Golf
“Bottom of the Sea”
“Marbles”
“One Touch”
“Kerby”

Receiving Games

“Horseshoes”
“Triangles”
A Ball and a Wall
“Wall Ball” (3 Lives)
“Horse”
Soccer Tennis

Finishing Games

“Around the World”	3
“Shooters”	4
NASL Shootout	5
“Goal to Goal”	6
“Wembley”	7
“World Cup”
“Head or Volley”
“Ten Bys”
“Headers”

Juggling Games

“The Ladder”
“Head-Shoulder-Knees-Toes”
“Around the World”
“End to End”
“Stall”
“3-2-1”

Backyard Small Sided Games

“Four Sides”
“Bricks”
“Barrel Ball”
“A Bags”
“Three Way”
“Cutthroat”
“Half Court”

Dribbling Games

“Yard Dribble” Around your yard, scatter cones, tin cans, towels, etc. throughout the yard. You will then dribble from cone-cone.

Examples: a) Dribble to one cone with right foot, then dribble to next one with left. b) Dribble to a cone, then pull back, change direction. c) Dribble to a cone, and perform a turn. d) Dribble to a cone and then perform a move around the cone.

Lots of variations can be used like timing to see how many cones they can dribble to in one minute, drag w/bottom of foot to one cone and then dribble fast to next, etc.

Figure 8's

Place two cones about 5-8 yards apart.

One person goes while the other counts to see how many times they pass between the cones in 30, 45, or 60 seconds. After one person dribbles, the person resting now goes and tries to do as many. Have them make a figure 8 with right foot first, then next time left foot. They can roll the ball between the cones, drag it, etc.

“Drag Races”

Still with a friend. They now stand next to the partner and are racing with the ball against their partner. Variations include:

- a) Dribble from the first cone to the second cone and then back.
- b) Dribble to cone, make a turn then race back (like the hook turn)
- c) Dribble to cone forwards then drag ball with bottom of foot backwards.

1v1 to a ball

Play 1v1 and the object is to simply hit the ball with a pass.

If you dribble up to the ball and hit it, it is worth “2”.

Variation: Play 2v1, 2v2.

“Jumpers”

Any number of players can play. It is everyone for themselves in this one. Each person has a goal, bag, cones, whatever to protect. Make a circle with the goals. One ball is used. Each person is trying to score on each other's goal. If the ball goes out of the circle, the “goal” closest to where the ball went out gets to take the ball. Goals re scored by hitting the bag, cones, etc. Play to whoever gets 3 goals.

Variation: Play to where you get scored on twice then you are out. Make it a knockout competition. Groups of 4-5 players are ideal.

“Three and Out”

Any number of players can play. The Object is to score goals. One player is in the goal while the rest of the players try to score. The first player to score three goals wins and whoever has the lowest score goes into the goal and the winner stays out to play another round.

Passing Games

“Soccer Golf”

Spread out, towels, t-shirts, etc. across a yard or area. Each object is a challenge. If using a towel or a t-shirt the ball must completely stop on top of it in order to count. Players try to pass the ball from a distance and have the ball completely stop on a towel or t-shirt. Like in golf, count how many times it takes for the ball to completely stop on an object. Try and improve each time out.

Variations:

Play with a friend or two. As a group, name the target and take turns, just like golf. The player that wins names the next target and also what the par would be.

Group Variation with one ball as target- You can also just use one ball as the target and whoever knocks the ball first gets to decide where to play and hit the ball again.

“Bottom of the Sea”

A couple of players (friends) have a ball and line up on the side of a square/rectangle. Each player will pass their ball and after they stay where they are. The objective is to pass the ball as close to the other line without it going over the line or “into the sea”. The player whose ball is the closest wins. Play until someone gets three. Players could go one at a time or all at once.

Variations:

- 1) Vary the distance every time. Whoever wins the round decides what the new distance will be.
- 2) Alternate feet each time.
- 3) Ball must be chipped off ground but still can't go past the line.

“Soccer Marbles”

Players (friends) each have a soccer ball. This game is usually done in pairs but can be done with more people. One person starts off by passing their ball out (break). The other player tries to pass the ball and hit the ball that was passed out. If they do, a point is scored. If they miss, then the first player tries to now hit the second player’s ball. When a ball is hit the player who hit the ball starts the “break” for the game to resume.

Variations:

- 1) If a “moving” ball is hit then that is worth double.
- 2) Instead of passing on the ground, the ball must be “chipped” and the ball must hit the other one in the air.

“One Touch”

This can be played with a group of friends. This is a passing game that requires good one-touch passing and first touch. Players get in a circle. The rule is that you must play one-touch, the ball must stay on the ground and go directly to the player's feet. If the ball is played off the ground or outside of the receiving player's reach then the player that passed the ball loses a life. Play to whoever loses 3 lives first.

“Kerby”

The game is also known as Kerbies in some parts. Two players stand opposite each other on the street. The first player chips the ball and tries to hit the opposite curb. If it hits the curb and rolls back to your side of the road you get a point and another go. If it hits the curb and bounces back up without hitting the road and you catch the ball it is worth three points. Anything else and it is your opponent's turn.

“Horseshoes”

This game can be played against someone or you can play 2 against 2. Place two t-shirts anywhere from 10-20 yards away depending on ability and whether or not balls will be passed on the ground or in the air.

If playing against someone then a player passes the ball to their partner who has one-touch to redirect the ball to stop or come as close to the t-shirt as possible, like horseshoes. If playing with a teammate then the ball is passed to a teammate that is across from you.

After one player/team goes, the other player/team then takes their turn. Whichever player/team has their ball closest to the cone gets a point. The sequence is simply repeated with the players now switching roles between receiver and passer. Play for a certain amount of points or for time.

Variations:

- 1) Ball can be played on the ground. Rule: Can't stop the ball with bottom of foot on the t-shirt.
- 2) Ball can be thrown in the air to opposite player.
- 3) Ball can be chipped in the air to opposite player.

“Triangles”

Two players take 3 cones and spread them about a yard apart into a triangle shape. One player passes the ball through a pair of cones and the other player will then receive the ball and has one touch to take the ball around a cone and then back through for the other player to repeat.

Every time they can do this successfully it is a point. Anytime they hit a cone or the pass isn't completed, it is not a point. Play against each other. This can either be a competitive activity against someone or a cooperative one with someone.

A Ball and a Wall

“I spent a lot of time hitting the ball against the side of the house when I was growing up. If my mother complained about the noise, I’d hop down the retaining wall at the end of our property to the office-building parking lot.

I’d use that wall-hitting the ball with both feet, seeing how long I could return the wall’s passes without losing control. I found out later that so many pros spent lots of their childhood doing that.”

Claudio Reyna-US Soccer Youth Technical Director, former USA men’s national team captain/player and played professionally in England, Germany, Scotland, and USA.

“Wall” Ball

This can be played individually or with a friend. A ball and a wall are used. The object is to strike the ball against a wall and then receive it with one touch and strike it back against the wall.

Variations:

- 1) Individually challenge yourself to receive the ball with a different body part every time.
- 2) With a partner, have a serving line. Ball must be served from behind the line and then received before by the other player.
- 3) Play “3 lives”. Players have 3 chances (lives) to get the ball back within two touches. After the “third” life start a new game.

INSIDE OF THE FOOT!

H---

HORS-

HORSE

A player drives the ball against the wall and the other player has to return it with various foot surfaces called out by the server. When a player does not reach the wall during play he or she receives a point or letter much like “horse’ in basket ball. When horse is spelled out or a player hits five points a new game is started. This could actually be played with a wall with up to four players.

“Soccer Tennis”

This can be played with one friend or up to 6 if the space is large enough. Set up a square and then a net in middle. A broomstick/yardstick can work if there is n “official” net. Cones may also be set up as a net. If the ball lands on the cones then the point is played over.

Play normal tennis rules as far as boundaries are concerned. Serve must be from behind the line and in a friendly way. A player can only score on the serve. If a player serves a ball and the other player(s) knock the ball back over then they get to serve.

Rules: Ball can bounce once and each player has two touches per side. For more advanced players allow no bounces and one touch per side.

FINISHING GAMES

“ If there weren’t many of us, we played games like World Cup or Ten Bys: one player had to cross the ball in and the others had to try and score with a header or volley. If they missed, it was a “goal” to the goal-keeper. Whoever was the first to get to ten goals won.”

Craig Gordon, Scotland National Team Player / Excerpt from the book “A beautiful Game” by Tom Watt.

“Around the World”

This is similar to the basketball game version. Two-four players can play. Five spots are placed about 12-18 yards from a goal depending on ability. A player not shooting goes in goal. Players determine an order to shoot the ball from 5 different spots and be the first one to go around the world and back. players go one at a time by order.

When a player scores from the first spot, they move onto the second spot and so on. If a player misses after shooting from a spot, they can either “chance” or “stay”. If they chance and miss again, they go back to the beginning or 1st spot. When they score on the fifth spot they then have to score again and begin the process of going back around the world and take a “chance” and miss again they start back at the fifth spot. Play until someone goes around the world and back first. (Note: Spot 3 is from the penalty spot)

Variation(s): Player must hit a moving ball instead of a stationary one.

“Shooters”

This is a backyard game that is played with two people, a goal, and a ball. The shooter is about 12-18 yards away depending on ability. The goalkeeper starts in goal with his/her back to the shooter. When they hear the sound of the ball being kicked, they turn around and attempt to make the save. When they hear the sound of the ball being kicked, they turn around and attempt to make the save. When the shooter misses or has their ball saved three times they then switch with the goalkeepers. Each player keeps track of the number of goals.

This game can be very good for goalkeeper training as well. If the shooter is crafty, they will move (dribble) the ball to different angles and as far away from the goalkeeper as possible.

“NASL Shootout”

Two players, a goal, and a ball are used. This game is the old shootout that NASL once used to settle a tie. The shooter starts 35 yards/steps from goal, which can be different if space is a problem. The shooter starts by touching the ball and then has 5 seconds to score. The goalkeeper may come off his/her line to save. Players rotate until a winner is declared.

“Goal to Goal”

Two-Three players can play this game. Each player sets up a goal with cones, towels, etc. Two players play against each other. The game is very simple. Each player gets to shoot at the other player's goal. Each player is in goal with the only rule is that you can't use your hands to stop the ball. A variation is to add that each time a player shoots the ball: they have to run around one cone before jumping into play goalkeeper.

Wembley

This can be done with a group of friends. Teams are made up from small groups. Each group takes turns crossing balls in - to the middle. The only way to score is off a volley or with headers. The ball can not touch the ground. When a team misses three times or has their attempt saved three time, the other team goes.

Variations(s):

- 1) The team waiting can have one defender.
- 2) The team attempting to score has to rotate who tries to finish.

World Cup

Three teams have two players each. Each team selects a country. One team (pair) splits up and each goes into a goal. The other two teams (pairs) play 2v2 and when a team scores three goals they win. The losing team then goes into the goal and the winning team (pair) keeps playing.

“Head or Volley”

This game is best on a full sized goal. A minimum of three player is needed for this game. The rules are that a goal can only be scored with a header or a volley. The ball has to be kept up in the air and not allowed to bounce or hit the ground. If someone makes a mistake they go into the goal and play goalkeeper. When a player shoots and scores with a header or volley, they get a point. If they shoot and miss or the goalkeeper makes a save they then go into the goal.

Variation: Put a restriction on that you can only score off a header within the six yard box and a volley outside.

“Ten Bys”

This game needs a full sized goal but flags can work for posts. One player crosses a ball in and players try to score with a header or volley. If a player misses, a “goal” goes to the goalkeeper. If a player scores then they get a “goal”. The first to score ten goals wins.

“Headers”

This needs to be done with a minimum of 3-4 players. An 8x8 square is made with cones, towels, etc. Each player guards a line. The game is one against three. One player starts the game by throwing the ball in the air to him/herself and tries to head the ball by one of the other three players. A variation is to have the players toss the ball to another (teammate) and now the game is two against two.

Juggling Games

“What Zidane does with a ball, Maradona could do with an orange.”

Michel Platini-former French National team player.

The Ladder

Player juggles the ball with the feet only. Player juggles the ball once on the right foot then once on the left foot, then two on the right foot then two on the left foot, then three on the right - three on the left - etc. Go up to 5-10 and then go back “down” the ladder. Try to get one more every time you try.

“Head Shoulders Knees and Toes”

Player juggles the ball with the head first, then the shoulder, then down to the knee (thigh) and toes (laces). Once a player is comfortable with that then they should try and go Head, shoulders, knees and toes, knees and toes. Go down one side and then the other side.

Around the World

Player juggles the ball from one side to the other in this order:

right foot, right thigh, right shoulder then over to the left shoulder, down to left thigh and down to left foot.

Once a player is comfortable with that, then try going around the world and back.

End to End

Try to juggle the ball from one end of the yard to the other.
See how far you can make it each day.

Variation: You could do this with a friend and see who can go the farthest.

“Stall”-This is an advanced juggling game.

Two players or a group can play this game. One player starts juggling and then knocks the ball to another. When they knock the ball to the other player they say a number and then “stall”. Whatever number they call that player must do that many juggles and then “stall”. A “stall” is stopping the ball in the air without letting it drop. An example would be to balance the ball with your neck or wedge the ball between your foot and shin.

“3-2-1”-This is an advanced juggling game.

This is a group juggling game. Players form a circle. Each player starts with “3 Live”. One player starts juggling the ball with any part of the body and then knocks it to another player. While the ball is in the air, the player that knocked it calls a number for the receiving player to do. Example: Player calls “3” so the receiving player must do three juggles and then knock it to another player. If a player loses all “3 Lives” they are out. A “Life” can also be lost if the player knocking the ball to a receiving player doesn’t call out a number or plays the ball inaccurately. When the group goes down to two players they can only use their head to juggle back and forth. They still call a number and the receiver must use their head only to juggle.

Backyard Small Sided Games

“The better the pick up soccer, the better the national team.”

Bobby Clark-University of Notre Dame Mens' Soccer Coach

“Four Sides”

Make a box with cones, vests, towels, etc. The object is for a group of players (team) to score through all four sides first. Any number of players can be used. The game is played around the box. Goalkeepers may be used if desired or a player from the defending team can jump in between one of the four sides of the box. When a goal is scored, the team that was scored on gets the ball.

Variations:

- 1) Instead of a box, make a triangle goal.
- 2) Play to five and the fifth goal has to land inside the box in the air or be chipped.

“Barrel Ball”

Place a tin trash can in the middle. You can play this with two or three teams. The object is to hit the trash can with the ball. If the ball is chipped into the trash can, that is then worth two points and the that got scored on has to retrieve the ball out of the trash can!

If playing with three teams, the team that loses the ball goes to defense while the other two teams work together to try and score. When a team gets three goals scored against them, they are then a neutral team that can help either of the two remaining teams out.

“Bags”

This game is similar to “Barrel” but instead of a trash can, school/book bags are used for the goals.

Variations: Use two bags and whenever a team hits a bag, they then have to score at the other bag before allowed to go back to the first bag.

“Three Way”

This is a regular small sided game with no goalkeepers. The first team to score in three different ways wins. Both teams agree on how each goal will be scored but the goals must be scored in order.

Example: Goal #1 must be scored on the ground, Goal #2 must be scored off a volley, Goal #3 must be scored from a ball that is passed backwards first.

“Three Team Cutthroat”

Create three teams of 2-3 players. Each team guards one goal. It is every team against each other. The three teams play against each other and try to score goals. Use bags, cones, balls, etc. for goals. The team that gives up 3 goals loses the match. When that is achieved the game starts over. As the game goes, teams pledge allegiances to each other only to be traitors. A team can pass to another team, but they don't have to pass the ball back. Be careful because the team that you may trust, just may turn on you!

“Half Court”

This is a game to one goal similar to half court basketball. Whenever the defending team wins the ball they must take the ball to a “take-back” line before then can shoot on the one goal.

This game is really fun playing on a normal field with the penalty box being the “take-back” line. Rules can be created with regard to scoring (i.e. scoring from beyond the take-back line is worth 2 points).

