Why I coach: I love soccer. I started to play soccer at the same time I started to walk. I never stopped playing since then. Just before coming to the USA, I started to be interested in learning how to coach youth soccer players.

I am really happy helping kids grow up healthy, related to my favorite sport. I feel this is a field in which I can help them to learn some of the great values that sports in general and soccer in particular will bring to them.
