Why I coach: To give back to the community and the kids, what was once given to me. I grew up playing soccer in my native Mexico City, playing every day with friends on the streets, local youth leagues, and representing my school. During my freshman year in High School, I was scouted and had my first professional experience at a First division reserve team and got some minutes on the first team. After suffering a severe injury, I decided to get my coaching education started, and obtained my first diploma to coach U18 and younger as well as a Goalkeeping diploma. In 2004 in Colorado, I obtained my entry level E-license, and a year later my National "D" license, which I'm working on upgrading.

As I got involved in coaching, I loved the idea of developing the player. Being able to transmit everything I learned as a player and later on in coaching education, has been one of the most important highlights of my life. It has been a pleasure to watch the youth grow into great soccer players and amazing young adults, all through respect, hard work, sportsmanship, and dedication.

My favorite aspects of coaching are the mental part of the game, respect and sportsmanship, the importance of those characteristics and how valuable they are throughout life!
